THE BEST OF MAN AND NATURE WORLDWIDE_{SM}

March 8 – 15, 2018 Cuba Fern Trip

We invite you to join this Expedition with Cuban botanical expert Dr. Carlos Sanchez.

Carlos is a professor at the University of Havana and a botanist for the National Botanical Garden. His research is focused on the ferns and lycophytes of Cuba and their conservation.

He spent several weeks this summer at the UC Berkeley Botanical Garden where he reviewed and identified an impressive 720 herbarium specimens, including two new species for the Flora of Cuba. He also gave several talks to Bay Area plant societies and to UCBG.

He looks forward to sharing his enthusiasm for the flora of Cuba with you on this fascinating trip!

Fri Mar 9

National Botanical Garden & Historic Havana

Our day begins with a visit the National Botanical Garden for a special tour and lunch. The Garden was opened to the public in 1984 and covers 600 hectares with 4,000 identified species. The field collection is divided between Cuba phytogeographic (3,500 native plants) and international. The indoor collections are housed in 3 pavilions: arid, tropical rainforest, and mountain rainforest. Ferns will be seen in selected gardens. Lunch at the Botanic Garden.

Spend the afternoon walking through the many plazas and squares of Old Havana, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Accompanied by our local guide, mingle with the local Cuban people. Dinner on your own at a palador. B,L

Day 3

Sat Mar 10

Pinar del Rio - Vinales Valley

This morning, travel west to explore the Vinales Valley National Park, UNESCO World Heritage Site, famed for its mogotes and picturesque limestone formations dating back to the Jurassic. The valley is surrounded by mountains covered with pine and oak forest. Walk through the forest to the isolated village of Los Aquáticos with abundant vegetation. The valley is farmed by traditional agriculture techniques, primarily cultivating tobacco. The culture of the valley is a blend of the indigenous people, Spanish heritage, and black slaves. Hotel (1 night). Dinner on your own. B,L

Day 4

Sun Mar 11

Vinales Valley – Sierra del Rosario Biosphere Reserve – Las Terrazas

Head east through the Sierra del Rosario Biosphere Reserve with a choice of trails such as La Serafina, Las Delicia or Banos del San Juan. Visit the Las Terrazas Eco-Tourism complex and reforestation project. Dinner on your own.
